WAR AS AN EDUCATOR

ROBERT AND THOMAS PHILP PROFIT BY TRAINING AND ARE OFFERED FINE POSITIONS

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Philp report that both their sons, Robert and Thomas, are still at Kelly Field, near San Antonio, Texas, in the signal corps. Robert writes that he may be held longer than Tom, as he is engaged in an inventory of army equipment, of which the government has about $3,500,000 worth at that particular camp. Tom says that he is doing only about two hours' work a day and he is getting very tired of loafing around and eating the good army food without earning it. But Tom's father says that Uncle Sam probably knows why he is keeping him. Mr. Philp declares that the army training they have had has been a splendid school for his boys, to whom positions are open right now in the ice cream manufacturing plant in Chicago where Tom was employed at the time he enlisted. It is a big plant with a very large daily output, and the positions offered them are at bigger pay than they were earning when they enlisted, and the reason for this is the special training they have had has made them more valuable than they were before. Tom has completed a special course of mechanical training which fits him for special usefulness in the ice cream factory, and Robert's training has fitted him for special work in the checking and shipping departments. In other words, camp service has built them up physically and been a liberal education which has made them more efficient and proportionately more valuable to employes.

The Philp boys are probably an example of thousands of cases which may yet prove that the war has been worth all it cost in money. For the lives that have been lost there is, of course, no compensation except in the inspiration to live up to our best ideals which has come to us through their supreme sacrifices.

Mr. Philp expects Thomas, who enlisted from Chicago, will be sent back to that city when he is discharged, but he hopes the boy will come home for a visit before returning to work as a civilian. Robert will undoubtedly be returned to Southern California, where he entered the army.

Dr. W. E. Edmonds, who is at Thornycroft Hospital recuperating from an operation, is getting along finely. His doctor declares he is proud of him as a patient. The stitches have been removed and he is improving so rapidly that he has been promised, if all continues well, that he can go home a week from today, in ample time for a Christmas with his family.

A SOLDIER'S VIEWPOINT

DON PACKER WRITES OF FRANCE AND HIS FEAR OF NOT GETTING TO THE FRONT

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Packer have received a good, characteristic letter from their son, Lieutenant Donald Packer, which was a long time in reaching them, having been dated October 26. That his many friends may enjoy it with them, they are permitting the Evening News to publish it herewith. They are hoping one of these fine days to receive a telegram announcing that Don has arrived at New York on a transport.

France, Oct. 26, 1918.

Dear Father, Mother and Sis: You likely have gained from previous letters written knowledge about where I am located now. From all indications I will remain here for a couple of months, although as they say here, "nothing is certain in the army."

Had a fine day traveling yesterday and must confess this part of France is the most beautiful country I've ever seen—quaint old houses, gardens, fences and streets—and nothing that we have seen looks to be newer than a hundred years old and most of the houses look much older than that.

Our detachment of casual officers has been split up, but I am still with Hanson, Owen and Stauffer, whom I have mentioned before. It is pleasant having old (at least a few months old) friends with me.

We are a couple of miles from the center of town, far enough so that we won't be walking in very often, and the cars stop running within a mile and a half of here at 7:30 p. m. The place we are quartered in is an old building, at least 200 years old, and was formerly a schoolhouse, so

A FIVE-DAY AUTO TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Dodge and Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson returned Sunday night from a five-day auto trip to San Jacinto and other points. In the course of their travels they motored to Oceanside, intending to go to San Diego and see Miss Merva Scott, who is one of the entertainers at the Camp Kearny Theatre, but on learning that San Diego was quarantined on account of influenza, they turned back, a course which was very disappointing. They travelled most of their journey in the rain and found the roads very bad. Miss Scott is making a great reputation in her work at Camp Kearny. Sunday evenings the company lends her services and those of the prima donna to the Y. M. C. A. of the camp for a sacred song service, which seems to be enjoyed by the boys quite as much as regular performances in the theatre.

CAPTAIN DAVID FALLON

Glendale Elks and their friends, who are making plans to attend the Elks' club house next Friday night, will be glad to have the opportunity here afforded them of seeing what the speaker of the evening Captain David Fallon, looks like. He has had such a wonderful career as an intrepid Irish soldier, not only in the present war, but in previous campaigns in which he passed through thrilling adventures, that his countenance must bear the impress of his great experience. He is a wonderful man in more respects than one, and Glendale citizens should appreciate the privilege they enjoy in the opportunity to meet him.

PRESIDENT TO OPPOSE PUNITIVE INDEMNITIES

HE WILL SUPPORT LLOYD GEORGE'S DEMANDS FOR THE ABOLISHMENT OF CONSCRIPTION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, Dec. 12.—If President Wilson's peace program is carried through by the peace conference, Germany will not pay the full Allied war debt as Premier Lloyd George advocates. The information he has shows that after Germany pays for the restoration of France and Belgium and the other occupied countries, she will be "broke" and will be forced to work for the Allies many years to come, paying under lowered living conditions for her brutality.

While the President demands stern justice for Germany, he insists on restorative indemnities but not punitive indemnities. Officials here consider Lloyd George's demands that Germany pay the full cost of the war as "punitive" payment, and it is understood the President will oppose it.

President Wilson, it is understood, will support Lloyd George in his demands for the abolishment of conscription. The war department's recent tacit announcement that it will not recommend universal military service is in line with this policy.

CONGRESS OPPOSES GOVT. OWNERSHIP

SENATOR KELLOGG DECLARES RECOMMENDATION TO HOLD ROADS UNTIL 1924 IS ATTEMPT TO "PUT IT OVER"

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, Dec. 12.—Senator Kellogg of Minnesota today presented to the Senate Secretary McAdoo's letter urging that the government retain control of the railways until 1924, declaring that McAdoo was "trying to put over" government ownership against the will of the people. He said. "It is a most remarkable document, coming so soon after President Wilson told Congress that he had no plans for the solution of the railroad problem."

In the House, Secretary Daniels' recommendations for government ownership of wireless systems was subjected to bitter assault when Daniels appeared before the merchant marine committee. The plan was assailed as an opening wedge to a government ownership campaign. Daniels insisted against confusing the plan of government ownership of public utilities, declaring that conditions peculiar to wireless operation were behind the recommendation.

POLICY OF UNITED STATES IN RUSSIA

SENATOR JOHNSON CALLS UPON STATE AND WAR DEPARTMENTS FOR FRANK STATEMENT OF INTENTIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, Dec. 12.—Senator Johnson of California today introduced into the Senate a resolution calling upon the war and state departments for a frank statement of the policy of the United States in Russia and a report on the operations of American troops in Russia.

In a speech on the resolution the Senator proposed a long list of questions to which he declared the American people have a right to demand the answers, the questions being:

Is it true that the Russian government offered the American government a basis of co-operation and sought help to prevent the ratification of the Brest-Litovsk treaty, and that the American government never replied?

Is it true that the Secretary of State definitely refused to intervene in Russia last March?

Is it true that the Russian government offered a program for making America the most favored foreign nation in trade and commerce and involving the control by the Allies of all their supplies most desired by the central powers?

Is it true that members of the Red Cross remained in Russia until October in perfect safety, even after American troops were fighting the soldiers of the Soviet government, and that the last members of the original American Red Cross mission to Russia left Moscow on the fifth of October and Petrograd on the fifteenth of October, under the safe conduct and protection of the Soviet government?

Is it true that the Department of State has refused the Red Cross permission to ship supplies to Moscow and Petrograd for the relief of Russian war prisoners, 60 per cent of whom are suffering from tuberculosis?

Is it true the American ambassador and the British high commissioner to Russia recommended co-operation with the Soviet government, through the American Railroad Commission, and that these recommendations were refused by the American government, largely because of misinformation received through the committee of public information?

Is it true that the refusal of these recommendations prevented the evacuation of large amounts of war supplies from the western front?

Is it true that the British high commissioner to Russia stated over his signature that the Russian government had co-operated with the Allies, and that he believed intervention in co-operation with the Soviet government was feasible as late as the fifth of May?

Is it true that the American government so delayed co-operation with the Kerensky government's plan to support the morale of the army that the provisional government was overthrown and the Bolsheviki revolution succeeded?

"MARTHA WASHINGTON" BRINGS MEN AND OFFICERS

London, Dec. 12.—The transport "Martha Washington" left France Dec. 9 with 110 officers and 1,656 men returning to the United States.

CITY FORESTRY WORK

WHAT IT COSTS GLENDALE TO BEAUTIFY ITS PARKWAYS AND MAINTAIN THEM

The city forestry service has gradually developed a definite plan of propagating, planting and caring for the street trees of the city. It has been found from experience that trees can be propagated and planted by this department at an expense but little in excess of the cost of legal proceedings as provided for in state laws under which trees may be planted by the city, the cost of which is assessed against the abutting property.

The city now maintains a municipal nursery from which most of the trees needed for street planting will be furnished from now on. The value of the young trees in the municipal nursery on July 1 of this year was estimated at $480, consisting mainly of camphor, bottle acacia, pine, pepper, carob (St. John's bread), California live oaks and Washingtonia Robusta palm trees. These trees have been planted fifty feet apart, the plan being to cover all parkways in this manner as soon as time and funds will permit.

One tree to each average residence lot is quite sufficient. There has been no attempt to remove trees in order to provide uniformity where several varieties have already been planted on one street or block, but rather to fill in the vacancies with trees that will harmonize with those already planted.

The trees planted by the forestry department are kept watered and cared for during the first two years, but notwithstanding this fact about 30 per cent of the trees have had to be replaced. The gophers destroy most of those that have to be replanted, although careless pedestrians are responsible for a great many.

There was expended during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918, the sum of $3,040.46 on account of the forestry department. The apportionment in the budget of the current fiscal year for the expense of the forestry department is $3,340.62. Plans for this year include the planting of approximately two thousand new trees in addition to caring for the fifteen thousand or more which the city now has.

The department requires the services of the city forester and one helper continuously, with some additional help during the year to take care of the work as planned for this year.

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL TOURNAMENT

Mayor G. B. Woodberry, Norton C. Wells, president, and C. D. Lusby, secretary of the Greater Glendale Development Association, and A. T. Cowan, editor of the Evening News, were in attendance at a banquet at the Maryland Hotel Wednesday evening, given by the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Association.

This get-together affair was for the purpose of asking the co-operation of the cities of Southern California in making the thirtieth annual Tournament of Roses better than it has ever been.

Among the cities represented were Long Beach, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Ontario, South Pasadena, San Fernando, Santa Monica, Culver City, Sierra Madre, Hermosa, Orange, Hollywood, Lamanda Park, Laverne, Covina and San Diego.

It was the sense of the representatives present that the Pasadena Tournament of Roses has become national in character and its support should no longer be confined to Pasadena alone.

The tournament on January 1 will take the form of a victory celebration and the annual event promises to be more unique and greater in magnitude than any previous tournament. In a few days it will be definitely decided if Glendale will be represented with a float at this annual event.

EVENTFUL MEETING

Tonight's meeting at the Community Sing will be quite an eventful one. For one thing, a delegation from the Greater Glendale Development Association will be present, and for another thing, an expert photographer will be in attendance to make a photograph of the audience to be used in illustrating an article on community singing in California which Professor Kirchoffer, the leader of the sing, is contributing to the Delineator Magazine, by special request. For the credit of Glendale and out of courtesy to Professor Kirchoffer, it is especially desirable that all patrons of this delightful organization be present to swell the crowd and show that our city thoroughly enjoys and appreciates the opportunity for community singing.

RED CROSS BRANCH

ANNUAL ELECTION TAKES PLACE AND SALVAGE SALESROOM IS OPENED

As in the case of most business meetings, there was no crowd at the annual meeting of the Red Cross branch which was held Tuesday evening at the library branch building on Brand and Los Feliz Road. More than a quorum was present, however, and officers for the coming year were elected, as follows:

Chairman, Mrs. E. V. Bacon.

Vice chairman, Mrs. McNorton Barnes.

Secretary, Mrs. Wesley Bullis.

Treasurer, Charles Cushing.

Purchasing Agent, Mrs. Leigh Bancroft.

Executive committee—The officers above named and Mrs. Paramore, Mrs. Ernest Collage, Mrs. W. J. Hibbert, Mrs. Hal Davenport.

The report of Treasurer Charles Cushing was submitted. It showed that the balance to the credit of the organization is now about $936.

Announcement was made that in obedience to orders of superior officials an effort will be made to maintain a local salesroom for the disposal of salvage. To that end the salvage headquarters at the corner of San Fernando Road and Central Avenue will be thrown open, it was stated, every afternoon from 2:30 to 5.30, when the salvage will be on display and tea will be served at 5c per cup. In accordance with this announcement, the opening took place Wednesday afternoon. The few who had been advised of the plan called and a number of sales were made and considerable tea was dispensed. The stock includes some very good clothing, books, pictures, fancy work, shoes, hats and miscellaneous articles. The salvage department of the branch is under the joint chairmanship of Misses Ellen Churchill and Minnie Moulton, and the hostesses who served the tea and acted as saleswomen Wednesday afternoon were: Mrs. A. J. Becker, Mrs. Roy Horning, Mrs. L. E. Richardson and Miss Ida Myers.

INVENTORY OF MAN POWER

Recent orders which have come to the local exemption board indicate that the war department is going to utilize the information secured through the records of this and other like boards and also utilize the machinery of the exemption board system to secure a complete directory of the man power available for war in this country. The instructions received call for files which will show the number of men in each age and also the number of men in each class. With such records available at Washington to check against, mobilization at any time within the next five years should be much easier than it was when the United States entered the war. It will also be a valuable record of citizenship, since the questionnaires, which are signed under oath, give minute information of registrants.

BUSINESS CHANGE

A. Meyer, who for nearly four years conducted the Overland agency in Glendale, has sold his interest to E. J. Jackson, who came to California from Illinois some two or three months ago. Mr. Jackson has had considerable mercantile experience, is a young man and is apparently a hustler who will make a "go" of whatever he undertakes. He takes possession of his new business today. A supply of all types of Overland cars is expected shortly and he says he is in a position to make immediate delivery. He will also carry a full line of accessories and tires.

Mr. Meyer asks for his successor a continuance of the patronage given to him. Mr. Jackson has established his family at 1305 South Glendale Avenue. They will be welcomed in the social and business life of the community.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS IN THE SCHOOLS

At a meeting of the board of trustees of city schools, which was held Wednesday afternoon, the holiday vacation question came up for discussion, and the board decided to grant pupils Christmas Day and the Thursday and Friday following, also to give them New Year's Day, but not the balance of the week.

There was no disposition on the part of the board to follow the example of Los Angeles and again close the schools on account of influenza, which, as has been stated in these columns, does not seem to be on the increase in Glendale nor to be seriously affecting school attendance.

I am told. One half of it is being occupied by the offices and the other half by the officers. The other buildings, in which we mess and where the men have their quarters, are remnants of an old chateau. All of the buildings are made of slate owing to the fact that all around us the formation is shale and slate. There are quarries all about us which have been used for hundreds of years. Very little is grown in this immediate vicinity owing to the condition of the earth, but in places enough has been cleared to have a grape vineyard. We are a bit too late to receive the benefits thereof. People about here are of the poorer peasant class.

There is a feeling stirring now among the men that this war will not last much longer now that Austria is about to quit. This has a tendency to cool our spirits and we find it a little harder to go ahead with the same enthusiasm as in months past. Won't it be a crime, after enlisting as I did a year ago last May and getting as far as I now have, not to see active service? Shall surely think I am out of luck. The terms will be made so strong for the Germans that they may delay signing the armistice and still give me a chance to get to the front. Am praying to get there anyway.

One of the boys from the old Ninth Company, learning that I was here, dropped in to see me. We were both glad to have a few minutes together and renew our acquaintance of some months past. He said he thought Al Knight was somewhere near here, so I am hoping to see him soon. This will be late in arriving, but I wish to congratulate you, father and mother, on your twenty-sixth anniversary, which is today. A year ago tonight I met you in the city, where the four of us had dinner and then to the theater to see Max Figman. I have the memory of a delightful evening.

Went shopping today and purchased some Christmas gifts, which I am hoping will reach you in time. Were not just what I should like to have sent, but am told so much is lost in the mail that I selected what I thought would most likely go through.

Have no idea how long this letter will be in reaching you, but for fear of being too late I am now wishing you all a Merry Christmas.

DONALD.

IN MEMORIAM

Saturday, Nov. 30, at 1 p. m., Blanche Beeson answered the call of the death angel and passed over the shadowy stream, and her spirit went into the presence of her Maker; and as I pen this imperfect tribute she is basking in the glories of that eternal Home and has met her Savior face to face, and shall be with Him forever more. How true that death is no respecter of persons. Everything has its seasons. But thou, O Death, hath all seasons for thine own.

Blanche, sweet Blanche, 'tis hard to realize that we must give you up. Oh, such a short time God loaned you to us! And really to know her was to love her. She was beautiful in face and form, sweet in voice and manner, bright mentally, and a charming personality, and kind and loving in disposition—hence her admirable character. Her life was a poem so beautiful, so complete; she was so happy and, Oh! so blessed. With summer in her heart and laughter on her lips, she stood expectant beside life's morning gate; but her sun went down ere noon.

To the young and devoted husband who is thus early robbed of her loving associations, her demise comes with the force of a crushing blow; and the home where so short a time she was once the light and joy is dark and comfortless. No more will her bright, sweet smile and cheery voice light up his pathway and gild the future with the roseate hues of promise.

Little baby girl that so early was robbed of God's greatest gift—a mother's love and tender care. If any consolation can be afforded under so heavy an affliction as you have just experienced, it must come from a higher power than ours. Your own strong sense of religion and of our duty to resignation to a power beyond our control, a Will ever beneficently directed toward our good, must uphold you in this most bitter trial. Let hope and faith mingle with your eternal sorrow. Your precious one is now a treasure laid up in that better world; the gate through which she has passed to peace and joy is left open so you may follow. And life is only perfected by death, and everything that liveth must die, passing from earth to eternity.

A FRIEND.

UNIVERSAL RECORDS

No catalogue of phonograph records begins to compare with the complete Pathe Pathephone. Approximately one hundred thousand records! Its nearest competitor is about six thousand. Didn't know that, did you? Takes time to find out a lot of important things.

Why, whole operas in sets are reproduced on the Pathe. Sit in your own home and hear every spoken word and every note in standard opera from the time the curtain rises to the time it falls. That is what the Pathe gives you.

Now can you use these Pathe records on your own machine—jazz, opera and all others? Certainly you can—sure! Come in and ask Jimmie Anderson about it. He will give you an attachment if you buy a few records, and a double disc sample record only 50c. Better see Jimmie Anderson at the Glendale Music Co., near Roberts & Echols, Broadway, near Brand. Open day and evening. 86t1

THE COMMUNITY SING

Singers and those who like to hear other people sing, if they cannot contribute themselves, are reminded that the Community Sing will take place as usual Thursday evening, December 12, at the high school, at 7:45 o'clock, when Professor Kirchoffer of Hollywood will again lead and instruct in new and old songs. No one should miss one of these delightful evenings.

CAPTAIN FALLON'S TRIBUTE TO THE RED CROSS

"Some of us, I among the number, have been through hell; wounded unto death, we found the hospitals heaven and the Red Cross nurses (God bless those holy women) daughters of Christ. Those angels of mercy, the Red Cross nurses, we love them, we would fight for them, we would die for them."

An honor and a privilege is awaiting the residents of Glendale next Friday evening, to hear Captain Fallon speak at the Elks' Club.

USED TO IT

The man had been haled before the magistrate on some trivial charge.

"Let me se," said the judge, "I believe I know who you are. Are not you the man who was married in a cage of man-eating lions"

"Yes, your honor," replied the culprit. "I am the man."

"Exciting, wasn't it?" continued the justice.

"Well," said the man, "it was then; it wouldn't be now."

Personals

W. L. Andrews of Pioneer Drive is confined to his home with influenza, but is not considered seriously ill.

Mrs. O. L. Howard of Sycamore is nursing three of her children who are ill of Spanish influenza.

Mrs. W. H. Baldridge of Escondido is visiting her sisters, Mrs. Wm. Nichols and Mrs. Marie Wagner.

Mrs. Wesley Bullis of Central Avenue, who was appointed a member of the city library board, has been made its secretary.

Members of Chapter A. H. of the P. E. O. will be entertained for an all-day meeting and luncheon at the home of Mrs. John Hobbs on Central Avenue, Friday.

Members of the Pioneer Club were entertained Wednesday at the home of Mrs. I. D. Vinton on Pioneer Drive, and spent a very pleasant social afternoon over their needlework.

The philanthropic section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club desires donations of clothing, books, toys and especially gifts appropriate for old men. These will all be used in worthy causes, and may be left at the Glendale Paint & Paper Store.

J. W. West of 134 North Belmont Street, who underwent a major operation last week at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Los Angeles, is making good progress toward recovery, and if he continues to improve is expected home in two weeks.

A few new books have recently been added to the city branch library at Brand and Los Feliz Road. They include a set of O. Henry's stories and an excellent biography of the author; also two of the later books of Jack London, viz: "Martin Eden" and "South Sea Tales."

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hendrix, who came from Wichita, Kansas, about a month ago, are already located in Glendale. They have bought the S. F. Hartley property at 1306 East Broadway. Mr. Hendrix intends to build a cottage grocery on his newly acquired property.

The Young Women's Missionary Society of the Glendale Presbyterian Church is enjoying an all-day meeting today at the home of Mrs. T. W. Weien in Eagle Rock. Miss Jennie Horsch and her mother, from Long Beach, will be with them. Miss Horsch has been the representative of the church in a Chinese mission in Oakland, and is at home for a little vacation.

Mrs. Ralph W. Meeker reports that she is a somewhat weak-kneed survivor of an influenza epidemic which caught five members of her family at one time. It was some sieze, she declares, and she says she cannot wish the kaiser any worse punishment than a good dose of real Spanish influenza. Mr. Meeker succeeded in getting a nurse for his family after telephoning for three hours. All the sick ones are up now.

Miss Louisiana Spaulding, who is the supervisor of music in the public schools of Tulare, after a two weeks' sojourn with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Suel Spaulding of Park Avenue, returns Friday to Tulare in the expectation that schools will reopen the first of next week. They have been closed twice on account of the influenza epidemic. She does not expect that she will be able to return to spend Christmas with her father and mother.

Mrs. Harry Brown has received a message from her husband, to the effect that he expects to leave Camp Wadsworth next Sunday and will start immediately for Southern California by way of New Orleans. If his plans materialize he will be here the last of the week and in time to be with his family on the 25th, which Mrs. Brown declares will be the best Christmas he could give them. Camp Wadsworth is near Spartansburg, South Carolina.

Mrs. F. W. Furbeck of Brand Boulevard has been grieved by the news of the death of her 18-year-old sister, of influenza, which she says is much worse in England, particularly in London, than in this country. It was introduced by returning soldiers. In the "row" wherein her two sisters were living are 216 houses. Influenza had invaded all but four of them. Nurses were not to be had at any price and the hospitals were all full. The two women were ill at the same time, and though the sister who still lives did all it was possible for her to do in ministering to the girl, Mrs. Furbeck fears she lacked the care that might have brought her through could a nurse have been found.

Mrs. Lillie Poston, with her daughter, Ethel, has recently returned to Glendale, after having visited relatives in Oklahoma. She left the east when there was two feet of snow on the ground and arrived in Glendale in sunshine. Mrs. Poston is stopping with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Henry. Mrs. Poston says she had a most enjoyable visit, but is glad to be back in Glendale once more.

Miss Martha E. Smith of Jefferson, Iowa, who has just reached Glendale, will spend the winter here as the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Anna Smith, the milliner. Glendale is fortunate in having many citizens who also came from Iowa and who will be glad to welcome Miss Smith to Southern California. It is her first visit here.

SOCIAL SERVICE AT HOME

Mrs. Ralph W. Meeker of Colorado Street states that she has consented, at the solicitation of Mrs. J. G. Anderson of the Los Angeles Council of Defense, to accept the chairmanship of a Glendale Community Council to take up local relief work that is urgently needed. She says Mrs. Anderson informs her that there are thousands of needy families in Los Angeles who are suffering on account of the influenza epidemic and that the conditions among the poor are appalling. It is too late for a thorough organization of the work, but the Los Angeles council is asking outside towns to co-operate with the city. The social service committee is at the head of the movement and everything goes through the Christmas Clearing Bureau at 245 South Spring Street. Every case is investigated carefully to prevent duplication of aid. Vegetables, food, bedding, fruit, clothing, everything which can add to the comfort of the sick poor, is desired. Mrs. Meeker says if persons who are disposed to help will telephone her at Glendale 1108, or if they will call at 1230 East Colorado, a truck will be sent for donations, and Glendale will receive credit for everything she does.

MUSIC SECTION

The music section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Colin Cable on Columbus Avenue, Friday afternoon of the present week. The session will for the most part be devoted to charity work for babies—American babies. The ladies will make slumber socks and scrap books and will bring toys.

A short song program will be given by Madam Katherine Shank and Mrs. Robert Yost, and little Bettie Hagood will give a poinsettia dance. In compliment to the number last named, Mrs. Cable will use poinsettias in the decoration of her home and she will serve ice cream and cake at 15c per plate, the proceeds to be used by the section for Christmas charities. All members of the Tuesday Club are invited to attend this meeting.

MASONIC ENTERTAINMENT PROGRAM

A very fine musical program has been secured for the entertainment to be given at Masonic Temple Friday, Dec. 13, at 8 p. m., under the auspices of Unity Chapter, Royal Arch Masons. It includes the following numbers:

Patriotic singing by the audience.
Salute to the Colors.
Vocal selection—Mrs. Floyd Masters, with Mrs. R. W. Masters at the piano.
Piano solo—Harold Thompson.
Scotch selections—Francis Henry, with Mrs. John Legge at piano.
Fancy dancing by pupils of Pearl Keller school—Impersonation of Ruth St. Denis, Julia Pelly; toe dancing, Arline Yeakel; classic selections, Marjorie Hart; impersonation of Julian Eltinge, Robert Lehman.
Vocal—Harry B. Hughes—(1) "Song of the Hermit," by C. L. Ballenger; (2) "Arm, Arm Ye Braves," by Handel; Madam Dague Mort Rolland at piano.
Piano selection—Madam Rolland.

APPRECIATION

December 12, 1907, I was appointed by the late Bishop Conaty of Los Angeles to "go to Glendale and hire a hall and organize a Catholic parish." We used the G. A. R. Hall for nine months until our little Church of the Holy Family was built. So I have been in Glendale eleven years today, eleven happy years.

I feel that my sincerest thanks are due to my many friends, those in the church and those not of the church, for their many deeds of kindness to me in the past eleven years.

I love Glendale and wish I were a poet with the ability to adequately express my thoughts as does my esteemed friend and gifted fellow-townsman, Samuel Parker. But, as our old school friend Horace says: "Poeta nascitur, non fit," so I must content myself with saying: "I love you, California, and Glendale best of all." REV. JAMES S. O'NEILL,
Pastor Holy Family Catholic Church.

A TONE THAT IS LIFE!

It's plain as daylight that a ball of sapphire, jewel-polished under the microscope and fitting perfectly in the half-circle of the sound-groove along which it smoothly, beautifully glides, is going to produce a TONE of purer quality than a sharp steel needle that becomes a jagged chisel before the record has revolved three times!

One is—metal. The other is—LIFE!

Pathé

Records CAN'T Wear Out!

A lunch consisting of hot roast beef sandwiches, home made mince and apple pie, home made doughnuts and coffee will be served from 11 to 2. The bazaar will be open until 9 p. m. Friday. 86t1

WHERE'S JIMMIE?

Why, Jimmie is right in it—in his element. Music to the right of him, left of him, front and all around him.

Jimmie saw, tested out and bought the new Pathe Pathephone.

It was a case of love at first sight. He loved it hard and threw aside his red sweater and went to work for it—and he knows why.

He wants to see every one of his friends right away down at the Glendale Music Co., the Broadway store near Brand, the original home of the phonograph—always and today run by the Salyers.

And you know Jimmie Anderson, or your young folks do and you've heard of him.

Jim can tip you off all the latest hits in records—knows them like a book. Chances are he has them in the big new stock—get them same day if he hasn't.

Regardless of whether you have a machine or not, hear the new Pathe. You will surely be anxious to exchange for it.

The Pathephone records are musically indestructible and you never hav to change the needle.

Pathephones from $32.50 to $225. Terms $5 per month up. Immense stock Sonora, Columbia, Lois, Wilson and others. Open day and night. Phone Glendale 1444-J. 86t1

Another reason why it is cheaper to rent than to own your own Home is because John D. Rockefeller gives you $10.00 with every gallon of gasoline you buy.

Mr. K. V. Haymaker says:—

"Give every family a home of its own with trees, flowers and a garden and crime will disappear in two generations."

Building Restrictions Entirely Removed

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.

The War Industries Board announces that all restrictions on building of any kind or character have been entirely removed and all building enterprises again become highly commendable undertakings.

OWN YOUR OWN HOME

DESIGN NO. 355

This home has five rooms. The living room, dining room and kitchen on the left side with two spacious bed-rooms and bath on the other side. All rooms connected by a small hallway. This home, while of the latest type of Colonial bungalow, still is economical to build owing to its straight lines and absence of porch.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The homes illustrated here each week are selected from the designs of the Lumbermen's Service Association. Any information, floor plans or cost to build will be gladly furnished by either of the local members of this association:

BLAME IT ON BILL

Wilhelm, you onery cuss,
What did you do to us?
What did you add to the crimes you had done,
When building was bounteous?
Bang! went the lid onto us.
War Industries Board issues "Rule 21."

You didn't mind the cost,
Whether we gained or lost
Wasn't a part of your kaiserish plan.
But there's a God on high
Greater than you or I;
And you forgot you were only a man.

Down from your throne you fell;
'Twas your fitsr step to hell.
Life will be worse than if you'd been killed.
Your final blow made,
We can resume our trade;
And Homes for the Homeless ones now we can build. —G. C. L.

OWN YOUR OWN HOME

"BUILD IT NOW!"

The entire aim, intent and purpose of this page is to encourage and assist our citizens to build homes, for we believe home-owners are better citizens, bigger boosters for Glendale and in all more happy and contented.

War-time restrictions have curtailed building and the normal development of Glendale has been retarded, but

THE LID IS OFF

Let "Build It Now" be our slogan for NOW is the real opportunity for the builder. Reconstruction will soon demand priority on materials and you may find it more difficult to build.

England alone is planning 750,000 homes, in addition to the requirements of devastated France and Belgium. That means a terrific demand for materials. The time between is the opportunity for you to build and that time is NOW.

The merchants listed on this page want you to build a home in Glendale and will furnish the plans, the material, the lot or the money—

ALL YOU NEED IS THE INCLINATION

The following progressive organizations, firms and individuals have co-operated with the Evening News to help in making this page possible. Read the list. You know them all, and remember this page is their weekly message to you:
